Constitutional amendment ordered transmitted to the Senate.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No. 13.

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to article eleven of the constitution of the state by adding a new section thereto, to be known as section seven one-half a of article eleven, relating to the consolidation of city and county government and to the framing of charters therefor and amendments to such charters.

The legislature of the State of California at its forty-second regular session, commencing the eighth day of January, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said legislature voting therefor, hereby proposes to the people of the State of California that a new section be added to article eleven of the constitution of the State of California to be known as section seven and one-half a of said article eleven, and to read as follows:

Sec. 7½. Any county organized under the general law, and having, at the time this section takes effect, a population of two hundred thousand inhabitants or over, as ascertained by the last preceding census taken under authority of the congress of the United States, and having within its territorial boundaries one or more incorporated cities or towns, may frame a charter for a consolidated city and county government, by causing a board of fifteen freeholders, who have been for at least five years qualified electors of the county, to be elected by the qualified electors of said county, at a special election. Said board of freeholders may be so elected in pursuance of an ordinance adopted by the vote of three-fifths of all of the members of the board of supervisors of such county, declaring that public interest requires the election of such board of freeholders for the purpose of preparing and proposing a charter for a consolidated city and county, with or without a system of boroughs, with combined powers of a city and a county, as in this constitution provided for city and county government; or in pursuance of a petition of qualified electors of said county as hereinafter provided; which said petition must state the name and address of a person or persons to whom notice of the insufficiency of the petition shall be sent in the event that the petition shall not have the required number of signatures of the qualified electors signed thereto. Such petition, signed by fifteen per centum of the qualified electors of said county, computed upon the total number of votes cast therein for all candidates for governor at the last preceding general election at which a governor was elected, praying for the election of a board of fifteen freeholders to prepare and propose a charter for a consolidated city and county government, with or without a system of boroughs, with combined powers of a city and a county, as in this constitution provided, may be filed in the office of the county clerk. It shall be the duty of the said county clerk, within twenty days after the filing of said petition, to examine the same, and to ascertain from the record of the registration of the electors of the county, whether said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors. If required by said clerk, the board of supervisors shall authorize him to employ persons to assist him in the work of examining such petition, and the board shall provide for their compensation. Upon the completion of such examination, said clerk shall forthwith attach to said petition his certificate, properly dated, showing the results of his examination, and if, by said certificate, it shall appear that said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors, said clerk shall immediately present said petition to the board of supervisors, if it be in session, otherwise at its next regular meeting after the date of such certificate. If it appear by said certificate that said petition has not the required number of signatures of the qualified electors signed thereto the said clerk shall so notify the person or persons whose name or names are mentioned therein, to whom the notification of the insufficiency of the petition shall be sent. Whereupon the petitioners shall have thirty days from and after the date of receiving the notice of insufficiency from the clerk, to present and file additional signatures. Upon the receipt of the additional signatures, the clerk shall proceed forthwith to examine the petition of additional signatures, so that such examination shall be completed within ten days from the date of his receiving same. If it appear that the number of additional signatures added to those who have not been legally rejected upon the original petition, shall total the requisite number of qualified electors necessary as provided in this section, the clerk shall forthwith attach to said petition his certificate, properly dated, showing that said petition has been signed by the requisite number of qualified electors, and said clerk shall immediately present said petition to the board of supervisors if it be in session, otherwise at the next regular meeting after the date of such certificate. Upon the adoption of such ordinance, or the presentation of such petition, said board of supervisors shall order the holding of a special election for the purpose of electing such board of freeholders, which said special election shall be held not less than forty days nor more than ninety days after the adoption of the ordinance aforesaid or the presentation of said petition to said board of supervisors. Candidates for election as members of said board of freeholders shall be nominated by petition, substantially in the same manner as may be provided by general law for the nomination, by petition of electors, of candidates for county offices, to be voted at general elections. The election shall be conducted and the ballots canvassed and result declared substantially as are other elections for county offices, except that there shall be only one election, and the fifteen persons receiving the highest vote shall be declared the duly elected board of freeholders. All ties shall be broken by lot.

It shall be the duty of said board of freeholders within one hundred and eighty days after the result of such election shall have been declared by the board of supervisors, to prepare and propose a charter for a consolidated city and county government and it may prescribe the existing boundary lines of the county as the territorial limits of said proposed city and county, and propose the formation of all of the incorporated cities and towns and all of the unincorporated territory within the county into a consolidated city and county government, to be governed by said charter, and to have combined powers of a city and a county, as provided in this constitution for consolidated city and county government. Or said board of freeholders may propose, in the alternative, that a lesser area than that of the whole county, to consist of those incorporated cities and towns hereinafter required to be designated and named by the board of freeholders as necessary and essential to effect consolidation, also those incorporated cities and towns, which as hereinafter provided, may by a majority vote of the qualified electors voting thereon separately, vote in favor of such consolidation, together with any unincorporated territory within the county proposed to be added, may be formed into a consolidated city and county government, to be governed by said charter, and to have combined powers of a city and a county as provided in this constitution for consolidated city and county government.

When such proposal is submitted in the alternative, the board of freeholders must designate and name as necessary and essential to effect city and county consolidation, all of the incorporated cities within the county having a population of one hundred fifty thousand inhabitants or over, as ascertained or by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the congress of the United States, and no consolidation shall be effected unless, as hereinafter provided, a majority of the qualified electors, voting separately thereon in each of said designated and named incorporated cities vote in favor of such proposal.

The charter proposed shall be signed by the members of the board of freeholders, or a majority of them, and be filed, one copy in the office of the county recorder, one in the office of the county clerk, and certified copies thereof duly attested by the president and secretary of the board of freeholders shall be filed in the clerk's office of each incorporated city and town in the county. The board of freeholders shall thereupon take a recess until called together by the board of supervisors as hereinafter provided. Thereupon the board of supervisors shall cause said proposed charter to be published in at least two daily newspapers of general circulation published, printed and circulated in the county, for at least six consecutive times, and shall also cause said proposed charter to be published for at least three consecutive times in a daily newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in each of the incorporated cities and towns within the county, and if there be no daily newspaper printed, published and circulated in any of such incorporated cities and towns then once in a weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated therein: provided, however, if there be no daily or weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated in any of such incorporated cities or towns, then said publication shall be made by posting in three public places in each of said incorporated cities or towns having no such newspaper, for at least three days. All of such publication shall be completed within fifty days of the filing of the proposed charter with the county clerk. The board of supervisors shall cause to be printed in pamphlet form, at least as many copies of such proposed charter, plus an additional fifteen per cent, as there are registered electors in the county. The county clerk shall forthwith deliver to the clerk of the legislative body of each and every incorporated city or town within the county, a number of the printed copies of the proposed charter, equal at least to the number of registered electors residing in any such incorporated city or town. The county clerk shall thereupon give notice, by advertising in one and not more than two daily newspapers of general circulation published, printed and circulated in the county, and if there be a newspaper published, printed and circulated in any of such incorporated cities and towns, in one such newspaper of each said city or town, that copies of the proposed charter can be had at his office or at the office of the several city or town clerks, designating them, upon application. Upon the completion of the publication of the proposed charter as above required, and not later than fifteen days thereafter, the board of supervisors must pass an ordinance or resolution calling a separate election in each of the incorporated cities and towns within the county, for submitting the proposal for consolidation to the electors thereof. Each incorporated city or town shall be considered one separate district, and the proposal for such consolidation shall be submitted separately to the electors thereof, as hereinafter provided. The date of such election shall be fixed in the resolution or ordinance adopted by the board of supervisors, which date shall not be less than forty days nor more than ninety days from the date of the passage of such resolution or ordinance calling the election for the submission of said proposal. The separate elections held in the several cities and towns must all be held on the same day. The resolution or ordinance calling such elections shall be published for five successive days in one daily newspaper of general circulation published, printed and circulated in the county, so that the last publication shall have been completed at least five days before the date of the election. The resolution or ordinance calling such elections, shall also be published for three successive days in one daily newspaper of general circulation, published, printed and circulated in each of the incorporated cities and towns, and if there be no daily newspaper published, printed and circulated in any of such incorporated cities and towns, then twice in a weekly newspaper, provided, however, that if there be no daily or weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated in any such incorporated city or town, such publication may be made by posting in three public places in said incorporated city or town for at least three days before the date of election.

The board of supervisors must appoint election officers in the same manner and give notice of such appointment by publication, as provided by the general law for the appointment of election officers at general elections; provided, however, that the board of supervisors shall not appoint more than four election officers to each election precinct, and provided, further, that the number of precincts in each city or town comprising an election district shall not be less than the number of precincts used at the last general election. In all other respects, every such election shall be held and conducted, the returns canvassed and the result thereof declared by the board of supervisors in the same manner as provided by law for general elections.

The proposal to be submitted to the electors of each of said incorporated cities and towns shall be substantially as follows: "Shall the (herein designate by name the incorporated city or town) join with the other incorporated cities and towns within the county of (herein insert name of county) together with the unincorporated territory within the said county, and form and establish a consolidated city and county (herein insert whether it is proposed to have a system of boroughs) (to be known as the city and county of (herein insert the name proposed)) to be governed by the charter proposed by the board of freeholders, which charter has been filed in the office of the county clerk and duly published, said charter to take effect on (herein insert date mentioned in charter when city and county consolidation shall take effect)?" If the board of freeholders have proposed an alternative proposition, the ballot shall, in addition to the above proposal, state substantially, that if said principal proposal does not receive a majority vote of the electors, voting thereon, in all of the incorporated cities and towns within the county, but receives a majority vote of the electors, voting thereon in each of the incorporated cities within the county (naming them) which have been designated and named as the cities necessary and essential in which a favorable vote must be had to effect consolidation of an area less than the whole of the county, then the proposition of the formation and establishment of a district into a consolidated city and county, which district shall include said named incorporated cities, also other contiguous incorporated cities and towns in which a favorable vote was had upon the proposition, and certain unincorporated territory (which district shall be the area described in the proposed amended charter), shall be thereafter submitted to the qualified electors of such district for their approval. Also there must be stated in such proposal such reference to taxation and bonded indebtedness and the liability therefor as is provided in the proposed charter.

If after the canvass of the votes and the declaration of the result by the board of supervisors, it appear that a majority of the electors in each of the incorporated cities and towns in the county, voting separately thereon at said election, have voted in favor of said proposal, the board of supervisors shall so certify such fact to the board of freeholders and set a day for the reconvening of said board of freeholders which day shall not be later than ten days after the certification by the board of supervisors. The board of freeholders shall enter the certificate of the board of supervisors in its minutes and shall have no power to change or alter in any manner any of the provisions of the charter as heretofore prepared and published. It shall thereupon adjourn.

Whereupon the said proposed charter shall be submitted by said board of supervisors to the qualified electors of the whole of said county at a special election to be held not less than thirty nor more than sixty days after the adjournment of the board of freeholders, or if there be a general election held within ninety days after the adjournment of the said board of freeholders, then at such general election.

If a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in the county, at such special or general election, shall vote in favor of such proposed charter, it shall be deemed to be ratified, and shall be forthwith submitted to the legislature, if it be in session, otherwise at its next regular or special session, for its approval or rejection as a whole, without power of alteration or amendment. Such approval may be by concurrent resolution, and if approved by a majority vote of the members elected to each house, such charter shall become the charter of such consolidated city and county and shall become the organic law thereof relative to matters therein provided, and shall supersede any existing municipal charter of the cities within the county and all amendments thereof, and shall supersede all laws inconsistent with such charter relative to matters provided in such charter.

If it appear, after a canvass of the votes by the board of supervisors, that the proposal has not received a favorable vote in all of the incorporated cities and towns within the county, and the proposal submitted shall have provided in the alternative that a lesser territory than that of the whole, not less than the incorporated cities designated and set forth in the proposal as necessary and essential to effect consolidation, may form and establish a consolidated city and county government, and a majority of the electors in each of the said incorporated cities designated as necessary and essential to effect consolidation have voted in favor of such proposal, the board of supervisors shall so certify the fact to the board of freeholders, and also certify all other incorporated cities or towns in which a majority of the electors have voted in favor of such proposal. The board of freeholders shall, within fifteen days thereafter, reconvene and meet upon a day to be fixed by the board of supervisors, and shall proceed to rearrange and define the boundaries for the proposed new city and county, including therein all of the incorporated cities certified by the board of supervisors in which a majority of the electors have voted in favor thereof, and which by the terms of the proposal were designated as necessary and essential to effect consolidation. The board of freeholders must also include in the boundaries for the new proposed city and county any incorporated city or town having a population of less than ten thousand inhabitants, as ascertained by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the congress of the United States, which, if such new proposed city and county is formed, would be surrounded by such area proposed to be formed into a city and county, or which is contiguous thereto and not contiguous to the largest area of the remainder of the original county from which the proposed city and county proposes to separate, notwithstanding that the result of the election in any such incorporated city or town as shown by the canvass of the votes of the board of supervisors, was unfavorable thereto. The board of freeholders may also include in the boundaries of the proposed new city and county, other incorporated cities or towns, not designated and named as necessary and essential to effect consolidation, but in each of which a majority of the electors have voted in favor of such proposal, together with such unincorporated territory within the county as it may desire, the whole to form one compact area, no part of which shall be disconnected from the remainder thereof.

No amendment or changes in the provisions or sections of the proposed charter as originally prepared, published and filed in the office of the county clerk, shall be made by the board of freeholders at its second session, except as herein provided. The board of freeholders at its second session, shall have power to change the territorial limits or boundaries in such charter as hereinbefore provided. It shall also have power to change the number by reduction thereof, of boroughs and of the councilmanic or supervisorial districts and the number of councilmen or supervisors to be elected, and to rearrange and number said districts to conform to the area to be formed into a city and county, except that boroughs previously established by the charter, if their territory is within the area of the proposed city and county, shall not be changed. It may also provide a lesser salary to be paid to any officer of the proposed city and county, if such salary is stated and fixed by the original proposed charter, and it may correct any mistake or clerical or typographical errors.

The board of freeholders shall complete its labors, as above required, within ten days after the date fixed by the board of supervisors for its second meeting unless given an additional ten days time by said board of supervisors. Within said ten days and not later than twenty days if such time has been extended, the members of the board of freeholders or a majority thereof, shall sign the proposed charter as amended and file one copy thereof in the county recorder's office and two copies in the county clerk's office, one of which copies shall thereafter be filed by the county clerk, in the archives of the new city and county government, when the charter shall have been approved by the legislature.

The provisions of section two of this article, and also those provisions of section three of this article which refer to the passing of any county line within five miles of the exterior boundary of a city or town in which a county seat of any county proposed to be divided is situated, shall not apply to the formation of such consolidated cities and counties, nor to the formation of new counties or of any city and county as herein specified under any of the provisions of this section.

Within ten days after the filing of the proposed charter, as amended by the board of freeholders, with the county clerk, the whole area of the proposed new city and county shall, by resolution of the board of supervisors be created into a district, for the purpose of submitting the proposed charter, as amended, to the electors thereof, for their approval. The question of the adoption of the proposed charter as amended, shall be submitted to the electors of the whole of the area proposed to be formed into a consolidated city and county as one proposal.

The board of supervisors shall forthwith, and not later than twenty days from the date of the resolution creating said district, pass an ordinance or resolution calling an election in the whole county, for the purpose of submitting the question of the consent of the electors of the whole county to the separation, of the district proposed in the charter, from the original county, and for the purpose of submitting the question of the adoption of the proposed charter to the electors residing within the district created, or the proposed territory described in the charter as amended, as the territorial boundaries of the proposed new city and county.

Both propositions or proposals shall be submitted at one election, as hereinafter provided. The date of such election shall be fixed in the resolution or ordinance calling such election, which date shall not be less than twenty days nor more than sixty days from the date of the passage of the resolution or ordinance calling such election.

The resolution or ordinance calling such election shall be published for five consecutive days in not less than two daily newspapers, if there be two, if not, in one daily newspaper of general circulation published, printed and circulated in the county; or if there be no such daily newspapers, then twice in at least one weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated in the county. Such resolution or ordinance shall also be published for a like time in at least one daily newspaper of general circulation published, printed and circulated within the area or territory proposed to be formed into a consolidated city and county.

The amended sections of the charter shall also be published for three consecutive days in at least one daily newspaper published, printed and circulated in the county, and if there be no daily newspaper published, printed and circulated in the county, then twice in a weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated in the county. Such amended sections of the charter shall likewise be published in at least one daily newspaper published, printed and circulated within the area or district proposed to be formed into a city and county, and if there be no such daily newspaper thence twice in a weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated in such area.

The board of supervisors must appoint election officers in the same manner, and give notice of such appointment by publication, as provided by the general law for the appointment of election officers at general elections, except that no more than four election officers shall be appointed to each election precinct. In all other respects, every such election shall be conducted, the returns canvassed and the result declared by the board of supervisors in the same manner as provided by law for general elections.

The proposal to be submitted to the electors of the whole of the county and the proposals to be submitted to the electors of the district or area described in the charter as the territorial boundaries of the proposed new city and county, shall be as follows:

In the county outside of the district or area described in the charter as the territorial boundaries of the new consolidated city and county, the only proposal to be submitted to the electors thereof shall be substantially as follows:

"Shall the incorporated cities and towns (herein name them) and the unincorporated territory (if any) (herein describe the unincorporated territory) be permitted to separate from (herein name the county) and establish a consolidated city and county to be known as (herein insert name of new county) the separation to take effect on (herein name date fixed in the proposed charter for the taking effect of the new city and county government)?"

In the district created by the resolution of the board of supervisors, which shall be the area described in the amended proposed charter, the same proposal as above shall be submitted to the electors, and also shall be submitted separately the question of the establishing of the area into a new consolidated city and county and the approval and ratification of such charter, substantially in the following form: "Shall the (herein describe the territory as described in the proposed amended charter) consolidate and be formed and established into a city and county government to be known as (herein state name of city and county) (herein state whether there shall be a system of boroughs) and shall the charter prepared, published and filed in the office of the county clerk on (herein state the date upon which the amended charter as to boundaries was filed) be adopted as the charter of the consolidated city and county, to take effect (herein state date mentioned in the charter when the consolidation shall take effect)?" Also may be stated in this proposal such reference to taxation and bonded indebtedness and the liability therefor as provided in the proposed charter.

Upon consent to the separation of such district being given by a majority of the qualified electors, voting thereon, at such election, in the whole of the county, and upon the approval and ratification of such charter by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in the district or area which is to be formed into a consolidated city and county, and by the approval of said charter by the legislature, as hereinbefore provided in this section for the submission of the charter to the legislature when the whole of the county is to be formed into a consolidated city and county, said charter shall be deemed adopted, and upon the date fixed in said charter such district shall be and become one consolidated city and county, and the charter shall become the organic law thereof relative to matters therein provided, and shall supersede any existing municipal charter of the cities consolidated by it, and shall likewise supersede all laws inconsistent with such charter relative to matters provided in such charter.

It shall be competent, in any charter, or amendment thereof, framed under the authority given by this section, to provide in addition to those provisions allowable by the constitution and laws of the state as follows:

1. For the merging and consolidating the cities and county into one municipal government with one set of officers; for the establishment of a borough system of government for the whole or any part of the territory of said city and county, by which one or more districts may be created therein, which districts may be known as boroughs and shall exercise such municipal powers as may be granted by such charter, and for the organization, constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction of such boroughs, which organization, constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction may provide for rural districts, with different powers and organization, constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction from other boroughs; provided, that in the event of such establishment or creation of a borough or boroughs, as hereinabove permitted, the boundaries thereof shall never afterwards be changed or altered, nor shall the governmental rights, powers or jurisdiction of any such borough or boroughs be thereafter limited, extended, modified or taken away, unless and until the borough or boroughs affected by such proposed change or alteration of boundaries, or by the proposed limitation, extension, modification or taking away of governmental rights, powers or jurisdiction, as the case may be, shall each have consented thereto, by the vote of a majority of the electors in each and every such borough voting at an election or elections called and held for such purpose in each of the boroughs so affected.

2. For the consolidation and merging of school and high school and union high school districts into one or more school, high school and union high school district within the city and county, to be governed by one board of education and one school superintendent, and may provide separate organization, constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction and powers for rural school districts, if any are established.

3. Any charter framed under the provisions of this section, which charter provides for the formation of the whole territory of the county into a consolidated city and county, may provide for the termination of the tenure of office of all county officers elected after the adoption of such charter by the electors of such county and prior to the approval of such charter by the legislature.

8. No property in any city or town or territory hereinafter consolidated into a city and county shall be taxed for the payment of any indebtedness outstanding at the time the charter takes effect and for the payment of which indebtedness the property in such city or town or territory was not, prior to the taking effect of such charter, subject to such taxation, unless there shall have been submitted to the qualified electors of such city or town or territory, at the separate election submitting the proposal in the first instance to join, the proposition regarding the assumption of such indebtedness as hereinbefore set forth and the same shall have been approved by a majority of such electors voting thereon.

In all cases of consolidation of two or more incorporated cities and towns, or of one or more incorporated cities or towns with unincorporated territory, into a city and county, assumption of existing bonded indebtedness by such city or town or by such unincorporated territory or by either of the cities and towns so consolidating may be made by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in the territory or city or town which shall assume an existing bonded indebtedness, and the provisions of section eighteen of this article shall not be a prohibition thereof.

Every city and county which shall be formed, under the provisions of this section, of territory which shall have been taken from the original county, shall be liable for a just proportion of the debts and liabilities and be entitled to a just proportion of the property and assets of such county existing at the time of such separation.

If the population in the territory formed into a city and county, by separation from the original county, is equal to or greater in number than two-thirds of the population of the whole of the original county at the time of the formation of such city and county, the city and county so formed and separating itself from the original county, shall be entitled to the original records and books of the original county, upon supplying to the original county certified copies of all records, documents and books properly bound and indexed, which affects or may affect the property of the remaining portion of the original county, or which it may in the future have occasion to refer to; and such certified copies so furnished and certified by the county clerk if the copies are issued from his office, and by the recorder if issued from his office, or by any other officer of the county if they be copies of records in his office, shall be competent evidence in any court proceeding or action which may thereafter be commenced.

The legislature of the state may enact such general laws as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of subdivision eight of this section.

If by the formation of a city and county, under the provisions of this section, any territory whether incorporated or unincorporated is separated from the original county, and by such separation, any of the elective officers of the original county, have by reason of such separation ceased to be residents or electors of the original county such elective officers shall continue to serve, and be charged with all of the powers and duties of the office to which they were elected, until the expiration of the term for which they were elected, and their salaries shall be paid, by both the new city and county and the remaining portion of the original county, in proportion and in the ratio as the population of each bears to the whole population of the original county.

If under the provisions of this section, any city and county is formed which does not include the whole of the original county, and by reason of the separation of the territory comprising the new city and county, any incorporated city or town or any unincorporated territory is separated from the largest area of the remainder of the county, by reason of its exterior boundary not being contiguous thereto, the legislature shall provide for the transfer of such portion or portions to an adjoining county or counties whose exterior boundary or boundaries may be contiguous thereto, or it may transfer such portion or portions to the new consolidated city and county, provided, however, if there be formed and established under the provisions of this section, a consolidated city and county government of a lesser area than that of the whole county, and there be any incorporated city having a population of forty thousand inhabitants or over, within the county, as ascertained by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the congress of the United States, which is not included therein, or if by the formation and establishment of any lesser area than that of the whole county into a consolidated city and county, any such incorporated city having such population is separated and detached from the largest area of the remainder of the original county, by reason of its exterior boundaries not being contiguous thereto, then such incorporated city, together with all other incorporated cities or towns or unincorporated territory in such original county, which if said new city and county is formed and established would likewise be so separated and detached, and which are contiguous to each other and form one compact area, may organize and establish a consolidated city and county government for the whole of such detached territory under the provisions of section eight of this article, by adopting a freeholders charter in accordance with the provisions of said section, and to have all of the powers conferred by said section, except, that for the purpose of the election of the members of the board of freeholders, and the organization and establishment of such consolidated city and county government, the whole of such detached area proposed to be formed into such consolidated city and county, shall be treated and considered as a city, within the meaning of section eight of this article; and except that all elections thereunder and all proceedings for the adoption of such charter shall be initiated and conducted by the governing body of the incorporated city having the largest population in such detached area. Such charter may be submitted to the electors within the area of the detached territory, for their approval, at any time subsequent to the adoption of the charter prepared by the freeholders elected by the electors of the whole of the original county, but the same shall not be ratified by the legislature of this state until after the ratification by the legislature of the charter adopted in the first instance, which provided for the formation of a lesser territory than that of the whole county into a consolidated city and county government.

If under the provisions of this section any city and county is formed, which does not include the whole of the area of the original county from which it is permitted to separate, and any remainder of the county is not transferred to another county as in this section provided, but is to continue as a county, the governor of the state shall designate and assign, from among the judges of the superior court of the original county in office at the time of the taking effect of the new city and county government, as many judges as the ratio of the population contained in the area formed by the new city and county bears to the population of the whole of the original county at the time of the approval of the charter by the legislature, and the judges so assigned shall be and become the judges of the superior court of the new city and county, to hold office during the term for which each of them shall have been elected.

Upon the approval by the legislature of any charter framed under the provisions of this section, which charter provides for the separation of any new city and county from the original county, the board of supervisors of the original county, shall, at the time and in the manner set forth in such charter so approved, pass an ordinance calling an election in the area which is consolidated into a city and county, for the purpose of nominating and electing the first officers thereunder. Said board of supervisors shall canvass the votes and declare the result of such election. The county clerk or other officer having charge of registration of electors shall furnish to the district or city and county so consolidated, the voting list and precinct registers of all the electors residing in the area of the territory wherein the election is to be held.

The provisions of this constitution applicable to cities, and cities and counties, and also applicable to counties, so far as not inconsistent or prohibited to cities or cities and counties, except in the method of procedure of calling elections for the election of freeholders and the submission of the question of the formation of a consolidated city and county, shall be applicable to such consolidated city and county.

Any charter framed under the provisions of this section may be amended as provided in section eight of article eleven of this constitution.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to repeal or alter in any way the provisions of section eight and one-half of article eleven of this constitution, providing a different method and procedure for the formation of cities and counties, wherein the initiative is taken by a city or city and county. Nor shall the provisions of this section apply to any consolidated city and county, organized as such at the time this section takes effect, nor shall the provisions of this section apply to any county, which at the time this section takes effect, had adopted a freeholders charter, and was organized and operating under such freeholders charter. The legislature shall enact such general or special laws as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section and such general or special laws, as may be necessary to effect city and county consolidation hereunder, or as may be necessary to provide for any period after such consolidation, by reason of the separation from the original county of such consolidated city and county, or to provide for the government of the remainder of the original county from which separation was had.

SEC. 5. Except as herein otherwise provided, every person in this state who has in his possession or custody, or under his control, any rifle having a muzzle energy in excess of one thousand five hundred foot pounds, who fails to report such fact to the adjutant general as herein provided, and within sixty days from the date of approval of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail for a term not exceeding fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and, in addition thereto, if the offender be an alien who has not declared his intent to become a citizen of the United States, and all such rifles found in his possession or custody or under his control shall be subject to summary seizure, and the court, upon pronouncing judgment may order the seizure thereof, and direct that any and all rifles so seized shall be delivered into the custody of the officer or other person in command of the nearest state armory or arsenal, or to such other custodian as the adjutant general may direct.

SEC. 6. The provisions of this act shall not apply to rifles belonging to the United States or to this state nor to rifles in course of transportation by common carriers, nor to rifles kept in stock by manufacturers, wholesale dealers and jobbers, nor to unsold rifles forming a part of the stock in trade of retail dealers. The latter must, however, report to the adjutant general all future sales of such rifles as prescribed in section six hereof.

Any violation of the provisions of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor and shall be punishable as provided in section five hereof.

SEC. 9. It is the intent of this act to assist the State of California to contribute to the national defense by any and all means within its power, and the act shall, in all cases, be liberally construed so as to give the fullest possible effect to such intent. For the purposes hereof the legislature of the State of California hereby determines and declares that all rifles having a muzzle energy in excess of one thousand five hundred foot pounds are high powered rifles, regardless of make, caliber or the kind of ammunition used, and that the public safety and best interests of the state demand that its properly constituted military authorities be informed, as herein provided, concerning the ownership, location and number of all such privately-owned rifles within the state.

SEC. 10. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of ten thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary to be used to pay for the printing, advertising, postage and other expenses imposed upon the adjutant general by the provisions of this act.

SEC. 11. ## COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS.

During second reading of bill, the following amendment was submitted by the committee:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

Beginning on page 1, line 3, strike out all of the bill, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

1. Each stockholder of a corporation, other than a corporation hereafter organized under the laws of this state which shall adopt and use as the last word of its corporate name the word "Limited", or its abbreviation, "Ltd", is individually and personally liable for such proportion of all its debts and liabilities contracted or incurred during the time he was a stockholder as the amount of stock or shares owned by him at the time the debt or liability was incurred bears to the whole of the subscribed capital stock or shares of the corporation; and such liability is not released by any subsequent transfer of stock. If any stockholder pays his proportion of any debt due from the corporation, incurred while he was such stockholder, he is relieved from any further personal liability for such debt; and if an action has been brought against him upon such debt, it must be dismissed as to him upon his paying the costs or such proportion thereof as may be properly chargeable against him.

2 In a corporation having no capital stock, each member is individually and personally liable for an equal share of its debts and liabilities.

3. In a corporation hereafter organized under the laws of this state, having a capital stock, and which shall adopt and use as the last word of its corporate name, the word "Limited", or its abbreviation, "Ltd", if its subscribed and issued shares have not been fully paid, in money paid, labor done, or property actually received by the corporation, and the capital paid in shall be insufficient to satisfy its debts and obligations, each stockholder shall be liable to the creditors of the corporation for an amount equal to that not paid up on the shares held by him, or such proportion of that sum as shall be required to satisfy such debts and obligations; provided, that no judgment upon such liability shall be satisfied out of the property of such stockholder until judgment upon the debt or obligation upon which such liability is founded shall have been first entered against the corporation, and an execution thereon shall have been returned unsatisfied in whole or in part, and the enforcement of any judgment against the stockholder, and of any execution levied thereunder, shall be stayed until such return shall have been made. Any stockholder in such corporation who shall pay any debt or obligation for which he is made liable by the provisions of this subdivision of this section, may recover the amount so paid in an action against the corporation, in which action only the property of the corporation shall be taken in satisfaction of any judgment obtained therein, and not the property of any stockholder. Any amount so paid by such stockholder, and not repaid to him by the corporation or recovered in such action, shall be considered as having been paid on his shares.

4 The liability of each stockholder of a corporation formed under the laws of any other state or territory of the United States, or of any foreign country, and doing business within this state is the same as the liability of a stockholder of a corporation created under the constitution and laws of this state.

Any creditor of a corporation may commence joint or several actions against any of its stockholders or members for the amount or proportion of his claim payable by each; and in such action the court must ascertain the amount or the proportion of the claim or debt for which each defendant is liable, and a several judgment must be rendered against each, in conformity therewith. The terms "stockholder" and "member", as used in this section, applies not only to such persons as appear by the books of the corporation to be such, but also to every equitable owner of stock or of a membership, although the same appears on the books in the name of another, and also to every person who has advanced the installments or purchase money of stock or a membership in the name of a minor, so long as the latter remains a minor; and also to every guardian, or other trustee, who voluntarily invests any trust funds in the stock or membership. Trust funds in the hands of a guardian, or trustee, are not liable under the provisions of this section by reason of any such investment; nor must the person for whose benefit the investment is made be responsible in respect to the stock until he becomes competent and able to control the same; but the responsibility of the guardian or trustee making the investment continues until that period. Stock held as collateral security, or by a trustee, or in any other representative capacity, does not make the holder thereof a stockholder within the meaning of this section, except in the cases above mentioned, so as to charge him with any proportion of the debts or liabilities of the corporation; but the pledgor, or person or estate represented, is to be deemed the stockholder, as respects such liability.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force upon the approval and ratification by the people of an amendment to section three of article twelve of the constitution of this state submitted by the forty-second session of the legislature to the people, and if such amendment so submitted shall not be so approved and ratified, this act shall thereafter be void.

When any state publication is printed and paid for out of any appropriation in this act, the disposition of the same shall be subject to the provisions of section two thousand two hundred ninety-five a of the Political Code of the State of California. The sums that are herein appropriated for expenses of the senate and assembly shall be disbursed under the direction of the bodies to which they respectively belong, and shall not be subject to any of the provisions of section six hundred seventy-two of the Political Code provided that the state controller shall not be required to draw any warrants until the original claims and vouchers, itemized and properly sworn to, are filed with him. All bills and vouchers, which shall be presented for supplies furnished or services rendered, shall be original bills and vouchers of the parties furnishing supplies and rendering services, provided, that no officer shall use or appropriate any money, appropriated by this act, for any purpose whatsoever, unless authorized thereto by law; and provided, that any officer, board, commission or department for whom any appropriation is made herein, may, with the permission of the board of control, and without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, draw from such appropriation a sum not to exceed one thousand dollars for any such officer, board, commission or department. The sum so drawn shall be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary, and at the close of each fiscal year, or at any other time, upon the demand of the board of control, must be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the board of control and the controller.

SEC. 4. Not more than one-twenty-fourth of the amount appropriated under this act for each department or institution for the two years ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred nineteen, shall be expended during any one month without the consent of the state board of control, and not more than one-half of such appropriation shall be expended during the sixty-ninth fiscal year, unless the same has been expressly authorized by this act.

SEC. 5. The officers of the various departments, boards, commissions and institutions for whose benefit and support appropriations are made in this act are expressly forbidden to make any expenditure in excess of such appropriations, except the unanimous consent of the state board of control be first obtained, and a certificate, in writing, duly signed by every member of said board, of the unavoidable necessity of such expenditure; and any indebtedness attempted to be created against the state in violation of the provisions of this section shall be absolutely null and void; and shall not be allowed by said state board of control, nor paid out of any state appropriations; provided, that any member of any such department, board, commissions or institutions, who shall vote for any expenditure, or create any indebtedness against the state in excess of the respective appropriations made by this act, except by the unanimous consent of the state board of control, and the certificate in this section provided to be first obtained, shall be liable on his official bond for the amount of such indebtedness, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction by the person or persons, him or corporation to whom such indebtedness is owing.

SEC. 6. No money appropriated by this act shall be used to renew, or pay for the renewal of any fire insurance on any public building or property, nor to effect or pay for any new insurance on any public building or property, except the state printing office and its contents.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following messages from the Governor were received and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

To the Assembly of the State of California:

In accordance with section 16, of Article IV of the Constitution, I return to you herewith without my approval Assembly Bill No. 1220

The Board of Control addresses me as follows:

"There is nothing attempted in the legislation which can not be covered by administrative act. With the cost of the institutions mounting daily as the result of the exorbitant prices for all materials, it is questionable whether the appropriations as drawn will support the institutions

At the present critical time to attempt such a radical change by legislative act, I think, would be unfortunate. There would be no elasticity of time for readjustment of matters."

For this reason I, therefore, veto this bill.

WM. D. STEPHENS, Governor.

Dated: SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, April 20, 1917.

The question being put: Shall Assembly Bill No. 1220 become a law notwithstanding the veto of the Governor?

The roll was called, and the veto of the Governor sustained by the following vote:

AYES—Messrs Bruck, Calahan, Gelder, Greene, C. W., Harris, Hawson, Madison, and Ream—8

NOES—Messrs Ambrose, Anderson, Argabrite, Arnerich, Ashley, Baker, Bartlett, Brackett, Burke, Byrne, Carlson, Collins, Dennett, Doran, Eksward, Farmer, Friedman, Gebhart, Godsil, Goetting, Hawes, Hayes, D. R., Johnson, A. B., Johnston,

J. W. Knight, Kyllberg, Long, Lyon, C. W. Lyons, H. McCray, Manning, Marks, Martin, Mathews, Merriam, Mitchell, Mouser, Parker, Pettit, M. J. Phillips, Rose, Ryan, Satterwhite, Shepherd, Vicini, Watson, Wishard, Wright, and Mr. Speaker—49

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA

To the Assembly of the State of California

In accordance with section 16, of Article IV of the Constitution, I return to you herewith without my approval Assembly Bill No. 795.

If this amendment should be adopted and a criminal trial thereafter should proceed in the absence of the defendant, it would always present a question of fact whether or not the defendant had voluntarily absented himself and whether when so doing the defendant had full knowledge that his trial was proceeding. It seems not a hardship to require one accused of crime to be present when the issue of his guilt or innocence is being determined.

For these reasons it would seem that the complications that might frequently arise if the bill became a law would outweigh any useful purpose that the same might subserve.

I, therefore, veto this bill.

WM. D. STEPHENS Governor.

Dated: SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, April 20, 1917.

The question being put, Shall Assembly Bill No. 795 become a law notwithstanding the veto of the Governor?

The roll was called and the veto of the Governor sustained by the following vote:

AYES—Messrs. Ambrose, Ashlev, Bartlett, Byrne, Dennett, Doran, Finley, Friedman, Gelder, Godsil, Greene, C. W. Hawson, Hayes, J. J. Hilton, Johnson, A. B. Johnston, J. W., Long, Pettis, J. A., Polsley, Quinn, Ream, Vicini, Watson, and Wills—24

NOES—Messrs. Anderson, Baker, Baldwin, Brackett, Carlson, Collins, Eksward, Farmer, Goetting, Hawes, Hayes, D. R., Knight, Lyons, H., Merriam, Mouser, Parker, Pettit, M. J. Phillips, Rose, Satterwhite, Tarke, Wishard, and Mr. Speaker—23.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

The following explanation of vote was received and ordered printed in the Journal.

MR. SPEAKER: I desire to make permanent record of the following explanation of my vote not to concur in the Governor's veto of Assembly Bill No. 795.

That bill sought to amend section 1438 of the Penal Code. The section applies to the conduct of a trial in a justice's court and reads as follows:

"After the jury are sworn, they must sit together and hear the proofs and allegations of the parties, which must be delivered in public and in the presence of the defendant."

Assembly Bill No. 795 would amend by merely adding the words at the end of the section: "unless he voluntarily absents himself with full knowledge that a trial is being had."

Section 1043 of the Penal Code provides as follows:

"If the prosecution be for a felony, the defendant must be personally present at the trial; but if for misdemeanor, the trial may be had in the absence of the defendant * * *"

Section 1451 of the Penal Code provides that a new trial may be granted after conviction in a justice's court "When the trial has been had in the absence of the defendant, unless he voluntarily absent himself, with full knowledge that a trial is being had."

It is thus apparent that the amendment to section 1438 proposed by Assembly Bill No. 795 would have made that section consistent with sections 1043 and 1451 and would have caused no difficulty not already created by those sections. If I had been given an opportunity to present these facts to Governor Stephens, I am of the opinion that his veto would not have been exercised. I had no such opportunity, and, in view of the facts hereinbefore stated, I voted, and asked the Assembly to vote, against sustaining the veto. There was no opportunity to confer with the Governor, owing to the veto message being received at an hour when such conference could neither be sought nor reasonably granted.

HENRY HAWSON.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR—(RESUMED).

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
STATE OF CALIFORNIA.To the Assembly of the State of California

In accordance with section 16, of article 4 of the Constitution, I return to you herewith without my approval Assembly Bill 764

Owing to the fact that there has been omitted from this bill an important section of the law, as it now stands, covering the adulteration of drugs in instances where the strength or purity of the drug falls below the professed standard or quality under which it is sold, and upon the request of the Board of Health that I withhold my approval of this bill for such reasons, I, therefore, veto this bill.

WM. D STEPHENS,
Governor.

Dated: SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, April 20, 1917.

Also:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
STATE OF CALIFORNIA.To the Assembly of the State of California

In accordance with section 16, article 4 of the Constitution, I return to you herewith without my approval Assembly Bill 534

I am advised by the Attorney General that the provisions of this bill interfere with the right of contract in a manner which cannot be sustained under the Constitution as a valid exercise of the police powers of the State

For this reason I, therefore, veto this bill.

Governor.

Dated: SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, April 20, 1917.

My reason for voting for reconsideration on the passage of Assembly Bill No. 1411 was because I was laboring under a misapprehension at the time that I cast an affirmative vote therefor. When it was explained to my satisfaction just how much confusion would naturally result because of the lack of a judicial determination of the meaning of the word "sabotage" and the fact that the author refused to accept an amendment striking out this word left me no other course than to vote for reconsideration of the vote by which this bill was passed

SEC. 5 Section sixteen of said act, approved March 13, 1909, is hereby amended to read as follows

SEC. 16 After said report has been adopted, the board of trustees, if they consider the total sum to be raised for the payment of the cost of such improvements too great to be properly expended in one year, or too great to be raised in one year by assessment against the property in such storm-water district, may by order entered upon their minutes, provide that the total sum assessed shall be raised in any number of equal annual installments, not exceeding ten. When the board has adopted the report and determined the number of equal annual installments in which such assessment shall be raised, they shall cause their clerk to forward to the tax collector of the county in which such district is situated, who shall file the same in his office, a certified copy of the report, assessment and plat as adopted and confirmed by said board of trustees, together with a certified copy of the order of said board, fixing the number of equal annual installments in which such assessment is to be raised, and the county tax collector shall enter said assessments upon the county assessment roll in the same manner as county taxes. From and after such entry upon the county assessment roll, the first year's installment of the amount assessed thereon against each parcel of land shall become due and payable immediately, and the total amount assessed against each parcel of land shall constitute a lien thereon, and thereafter installments of the assessment for the succeeding years shall become due and payable on the first Monday of October of each year; provided, that any or all subsequent installments of the assessment on any parcel of land may, at the option of any person desiring to pay the same, be paid at any time after the first installment becomes due and payable. If the district is situated in two or more counties, a certified copy of said report, assessment, plat and order of the board of trustees shall be filed with the tax collector of each county in which any part of said district is situated, and thereafter each tax collector shall enter the assessments upon the assessment roll of his county and proceed as to the property in said district within his own county in the manner hereinafter directed, and the assessment on the property in said county shall be collected in the manner hereinafter directed.

SEC. 6. Section seventeen of said act, approved March 13, 1909, is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 17. Within one month after the filing of such certified copy of said report, assessment, plat and order with the tax collector, and the entry of the same upon the county assessment roll, said tax collector shall give notice by ten days' publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in said district, or if there is none, in a newspaper of general circulation published in his county, that the assessment roll of ----- storm-water district of ----- county, has been filed in his office, and entered upon the county assessment roll, with the date of such entry; that the amounts entered thereon are due and payable, that if not paid on or before the first Monday in January next ensuing, the same will become delinquent and will be collected in the same manner as delinquent taxes. If the first Monday in January next ensuing is less than three months from the date of filing the assessment roll with the tax collector, the date, to be stated in the notice, shall be three months after such entry upon the county assessment roll. The tax collector shall note on the county assessment roll all assessments paid, with the dates of payment, giving receipts as in the case of payments of taxes, and shall pay all money collected into the county treasury at the same time and in the same manner as money collected for taxes paid into such treasury. All collections of subsequent installments of the assessment shall be made in the same manner as above set forth, and the tax collector shall annually (after the first year), immediately after the first Monday of October give notice as above directed that the (giving the number) annual installment of the assessments of said district is now due and payable, and that if not paid on or before the first Monday of January next ensuing, the same will become delinquent and will be collected in the same manner as delinquent taxes; and the same proceedings shall be had thereon as upon the collection of the first assessment. the maximum rate of interest to be paid, which shall not exceed six per cent per annum, payable semiannually. The board of trustees shall fix a date upon which an election shall be held, for the purpose of authorizing said bonded indebtedness to be incurred. It shall be the duty of the board of trustees to provide for holding such special elections on the day so fixed and in accordance with the general election laws of the state, so far as the same shall be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. Such board of trustees shall give notice of the holding of such election, which notice shall contain the resolution adopted by the board of trustees of the district, boundaries of precincts, the location of polling places, and the names of the officers selected to conduct the election, who shall consist of one judge, one inspector and one clerk in each precinct. No irregularities or informalities in conducting such election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have otherwise been fairly conducted. In all respects not otherwise provided for herein, said election shall be called, managed and directed as is by law provided for general elections in this state applicable thereto.

Sec. 8. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered twenty-six b and to read as follows:

Sec. 11. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered twenty-six e and to read as follows:

Sec. 26*e*. The board of trustees of each storm water district shall annually during the month of August estimate the amount of money which will be needed to pay the interest and such portion of any bond issue maturing prior to the preceding August, and certify such amount to the board of supervisors of the county or counties in which said district lies. Such board or boards of supervisors shall, at the time of making the levy of taxes, for county purposes for that year, levy a tax upon the real property in their county in said district, sufficient in amount to raise the sum estimated by the board of trustees to be necessary. When the district is in two or more counties, the amount to be raised upon the part of the district in each county shall be in proportion to the assessed valuation of the several portions of the districts in the respective counties. Said tax, when levied shall be entered upon the assessment roll and collected in the same manner as the state and county taxes. When the same is collected it shall be placed in the treasury of the county in which said district is organized, to the credit of the bond fund of said district, and shall be used only for the purpose for which it is raised.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following message from the Governor was received and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

To the Senate and Assembly of the State of California:

Less than one month ago this Legislature by enactment created the State Council of Defense to be advisory to the Governor in those emergencies which may arise out of the present state of war. Pursuant to the terms of that act the State Council of Defense has been organized and is thoroughly representative of the entire life of our State. It has approached the great problems which now confront us with vigor, intelligence, and unselfish, patriotic devotion.

The work which has been accomplished, even in this brief time, is of profound importance to the social, industrial and economic life of this State, and of the progress of this work the Legislature should be fully cognizant.

Two meetings of the entire body have already been held. Committees have been active, and these in turn have associated with themselves as subcommittees many individuals and varied interests. Today this council has woven together the vast and complicated life of our people, and by this agency we are striving to give protection at home and to contribute our share in the great war in which our country is engaged.

It is quite impossible to present to you in detail the work of the Council of Defense at this time, but in conformity with the provisions of the act creating the council, I deem it proper to submit a partial report of the high patriotic service being rendered this State.

Among the activities of the Council of Defense to which I would direct your attention is the work of the Committee on Scientific Research, which, under the leadership of the educational institutions of the State, is grappling with many urgent problems. These are not theoretical matters. They touch us all. Let me name only three of the problems produced by war conditions upon which these scientists are at work and which they must solve in the near future:

First—Mines are closing down because of lack of cyanide. The citrus industry also must have cyanide for the fumigation of our orange and lemon groves. None of the chemical is obtainable and agriculture and mining suffer. The Council for National Defense has appealed to our State Council to help devise means for cyanide manufacture in California. It is highly probable that we will be successful.

Second—From the wood waste of our forests we can commercially obtain tar, turpentine, resin and charcoal. All of these are necessary for the industries and none are now available in quantities. Our chemical laboratories are attacking this problem with vigor.

Third—We face on this coast a shortage in iron and steel. We have great iron deposits, but we lack the coke used in the reduction methods common in this country. We can not be without iron and steel. Therefore, we must develop new methods depending upon charcoal, petroleum and hydroelectric power.

Success in these investigations means not only immediate relief to industrial life but in times of peace these new enterprises will bring prosperity to our State.

The Committee on Oil Supply has completed a survey of the total production of all companies. This State must produce more oil and develop new processes to increase the production of gasoline and lubricating oils. This survey is of incalculable value and represents information never before given over to any agency of the government.

In transportation,* the council has coordinated all of the railroad facilities of California so that they may be used to greatest effect in case of urgency. A census of all forms of motor vehicles is under way. The highway commission has in hand the problem of military roads and their maintenance.

The Committee on Manufactures, in conjunction with various chambers of commerce, has made an excellent survey of the manufacturing resources of the State. They have called attention to the fact that the continued export of tin plate from this country jeopardizes seriously the canning industry. This matter is now being called to the attention of the Federal government. We must find some new ways of holding over our perishable fruit and vegetable crops.

The Committee on Military Affairs has recommended two measures which seem to them desirable in this crisis. The first suggested that the Legislature give the Governor power over county officials, but in this matter it was decided to rely on existing law and on the loyalty and patriotism of the people and upon volunteer help of all officials whether of the cities, counties or state. The second, a measure authorizing a State Defense Guard, meets with approval. The Federal government has taken from the states the National Guard. If a crisis arises we may be called upon to protect life and property within our borders, and without some State defense force we would be powerless to act. The proposed State Defense Guard is to be placed under the direction of the Governor, and is to be composed of such numbers—not to exceed one thousand men—as the Governor may deem necessary. This defense force is not to be used in industrial disputes or strikes. Our State must not be left without the possibility of protection in case of need, and therefore this flexible body is imperative.

The problem of food supply, probably the most important that confronts us, has been entrusted by the council to the University of California, whose president is the chairman of the committee. Three days after the organization of the Council of Defense, a statewide conference was meeting at Berkeley. This was followed immediately by a conference attended by representatives of the seven western states. The work was pushed forward with vigor. When the National Council attacks the food supply problem, it will find our western states fully canvassed and thoroughly prepared.

We are facing uncertain times. Rising prices will continue unless we can increase the production to offset the great demand. In the brief planting time remaining we must cultivate every available acre and town lot. To further this purpose, the Council has launched an effective advertising campaign.

The Committee on Food Supply is rapidly covering every county in the State so that by May first we will know accurately what we may expect for this year's production. We already know what our annual consumption may be and the result will show where shortages and high prices may prevail. With this information we shall know when to strike at unjust prices and inflated values. One of our greatest hopes of developing new sources of food lies in the expansion of the fisheries off our southern coast.

The Committee on Food Supply is rendering service of highest importance. Our people must live and have the necessities of life, yet we must be prepared to save and to sacrifice much for the good of all the nation.

Only a few of the projects undertaken by the Council of Defense have been mentioned in this brief review. Yet those which have been enumerated make clear its scope and importance.

Seeking to develop and coordinate the patriotic efforts of the people in all parts of the State, a County Council of Defense has been organized in each county. Through this medium we hope to bring closer to all of our people the need for economy, friendly cooperation and the utmost endeavor to develop and conserve all resources of the State. Officers of each county being members of the county council will feel renewed responsibility for the peace and good order of their several counties and be constantly on guard against possible enemies of our country. The responses to the request to organize these county councils show such universal patriotic fervor as to prove our people a unit in devotion to the flag.

The State has at its service, laboring loyally and most effectively to safeguard and protect our people, a body of men and women to whom we may already express a debt of gratitude. With the advice and aid of our State Council of Defense California will do her part for our country and for the cause of civilization.

WM. D. STEPHENS, Governor

NOTICE OF RECONSIDERATION.

Mr Watson gave notice that on the next legislative day he would move to reconsider the vote whereby Senate Bill No 86 was this day passed.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I voted for this bill believing that under its provisions the State Market Commission will have authority to establish state markets throughout the State. I based my belief upon the following provision in the bill which is set forth as one of the purposes for the organization of the State Market Commission, to wit "To promote, assist and encourage the organization and operation of cooperative and other associations and organizations for improving the relations and services among producers, distributors and consumers of any such products and to protect and conserve the interests of the producers and consignors of such products." I furthermore believe that before we can reduce materially the price of food we must organize the producers so that they may be able to produce and place their products before the consumer at the least possible cost.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

The following explanation of vote was received and ordered printed in the Journal:

The vote on Senator Luce's county government bill was taken early yesterday morning, while I was attending a Senate committee hearing, trying to keep down the taxes of the people.

Because my county government bill was killed in the Senate committee by the adverse influence of the other members of the San Diego delegation, and because the Senate bill reduces the cost of the San Diego County government only a small fraction of the saving my bill would have effected, the absence of my name in the roll call on the Senate bill may be claimed to indicate childish pique, and I hope I am not built of such small caliber.

As a matter of fact, I have here a copy of a letter written to Senator Luce, April 23d, in which I told him I intended to vote for his bill, and I also have in my desk a short, previously prepared, manuscript I intended to read in support of his bill.

I ask that this statement may be printed in the Journal, so as to square my record in this very essential particular.

W. A. DORAN.

Any such plan shall be void until approved by said board, and no such work shall be done or constructed without the permission of said board first obtained.

No river or by-pass levee at any of the places hereinbefore mentioned, nor any levee forming part of any of the plans of flood control adopted by this act or by said reclamation board, shall be cut or altered without permission of said board first obtained.

Before any work of construction on any by-pass levee of the Sacramento River flood control project shall be commenced, or any work on any such levee already commenced shall be further prosecuted, written permission must be obtained from the California Debris Commission, such permission to state the time, as nearly as practicable, when such levee or levees may be completed and closed with least injury or impairment to navigation and with best advantage to the flood control of the Sacramento River. The east levee of the Sutter by-pass must be built, together with the necessary works for handling the drainage waters intercepted thereby before the north or south levees of the Tisdale by-pass shall be closed, provided, said levees may be closed at any time after July 10, 1919.

And provided, further, that any such existing levee may be protected or strengthened in case of emergency during the season of flood water, where it is in danger of injury or destruction therefrom, provided, that notice of such work shall be immediately given to the reclamation board, and provided that all such emergency work shall be subject to the subsequent approval of the reclamation board, and that said board shall have power to require its removal or alteration if not so approved.

And provided, further, that no levee, embankment or other structure within any by-pass or overflow channel adopted by said reclamation board shall be raised, widened, strengthened or altered without permission of said reclamation board first obtained.

The construction, enlargement, revetment or alteration of any levee, embankment, canal or other work of reclamation, flood control or drainage at any of the places hereinbefore mentioned, or the doing of any act or construction of any work in this section mentioned or permitting the same to remain after such construction, which shall be done without the permission of the reclamation board and in violation of any of the provisions of this section, is hereby declared to be a public nuisance, and the reclamation board is hereby empowered to commence and maintain any suit or suits in the name of the people of the State of California for the prevention or abatement of such nuisance. #### SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No. 45,

A resolution proposing to the people of the State of California an amendment to section four of article six of the constitution of the State of California, relating to the supreme court and district courts of appeal, and providing for two divisions of the district courts of appeal of the first and second appellate districts.

The legislature of the State of California, at its regular session commencing on the eighth day of January, 1917, two-thirds of the members elected to each of the two houses of said legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes an amendment to the constitution of the State of California amending section four of article six thereof so as to read as follows:

Sec. 4. The supreme court shall have appellate jurisdiction on appeal from the superior courts in all cases in equity, except such as arise in justices' courts; also, in all cases at law which involve the title or possession of real estate, or the legality of any tax, impost, assessment, toll, or municipal fine, or in which the demand, exclusive of interest, or the value of the property in controversy, amounts to two thousand dollars; also, in all such probate matters as may be provided by law; also, on questions of law alone, in all criminal cases where judgment of death has been rendered; the said court shall also have appellate jurisdiction in all cases, matters and proceedings pending before a district court of appeal, which shall be ordered by the supreme court to be transferred to itself for hearing and decision, as hereinafter provided. The said court shall also have power to issue writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition, and habeas corpus, and all other writs necessary or proper to the complete exercise of its appellate jurisdiction. Each of the justices shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus to any part of the state, upon petition by or on behalf of any person held in actual custody, and may make such writs returnable before himself or the supreme court, or before any district court of appeal, or before any judge thereof, or before any superior court in the state, or before any judge thereof.

The state is hereby divided into three appellate districts, in each of which there shall be a district court of appeal.

The courts of appeal for the first and second appellate districts shall each consist of two divisions of three justices each.

The court of the third appellate district shall consist of three justices.

The district courts of appeal as existing immediately prior to the general election of the year one thousand nine hundred eighteen shall not be affected as to the officers or terms of office of the justices thereof by the amendment of this section at that election, and the justices of the district courts of appeal of districts of the first and second districts at the time of said general election shall constitute division one of each of said districts respectively. Each of such divisions shall constitute and shall exercise all of the powers of a district court of appeal.

The first district shall embrace the following counties: San Francisco, Marin, Contra Costa, Alameda, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Fresno, Santa Cruz, Monterey and San Benito.

The second district shall embrace the following counties: Tulare, Kings, San Luis Obispo, Kern, Inyo, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Orange, Riverside, San Diego and Imperial.

The third district shall embrace the following counties: Del Norte, Siskiyou, Modoc, Humboldt, Trinity, Shasta, Lassen, Tehama, Plumas, Mendocino, Lake Colusa, Glenn, Butte, Sierra, Sutter, Yuba, Nevada, Sonoma, Napa, Yolo, Placer, Solano, Sacramento, El Dorado, San Joaquin, Amador, Calaveras, Stanislaus, Mariposa, Madera, Merced, Tuolumne, Alpine and Mono.

The supreme court, by orders entered in its minutes, may from time to time remove one or more counties from one appellate district to another, but no county not contiguous to another county of a district shall be added to such district.

Said district courts of appeal shall hold their regular sessions respectively at San Francisco, Los Angeles and Sacramento, and they shall always be open for the transaction of business.

The district courts of appeal shall have appellate jurisdiction on appeal from the superior courts in all cases at law in which the demand, exclusive of interest, or the value of the property in controversy, amounts to three hundred dollars, and does not amount to two thousand dollars; also, in all cases of forcible and unlawful entry and detainer (except such as arise in justices' courts), in proceedings in insolvency, and in actions to prevent or abate a nuisance, in proceedings of mandamus, certiorari and prohibition, usurpation of office, contesting elections and eminent domain, and in such other special proceedings as may be provided by law (excepting cases in which appellate jurisdiction is given to the supreme court); also, on questions of law alone, in all criminal cases prosecuted by indictment or information in a court of record, excepting criminal cases where judgment of death has been rendered. The said courts shall also have appellate jurisdiction in all cases, matters, and proceedings pending before the supreme court which shall be ordered by the supreme court to be transferred to a district court of appeal for hearing and decision. The said courts shall also have power to issue writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition and habeas corpus, and all other writs necessary or proper to the complete exercise of their appellate jurisdiction. Each of the justices thereof shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus to any part of his appellate district upon petition by or on behalf of any person held in actual custody, and may make such writs returnable before himself or the district court of appeal of his district, or before any superior court within his district, or before any judge thereof.

The supreme court shall have power to order any cause pending before the supreme court to be heard and determined by a district court of appeal, and to order any cause pending before a district court of appeal to be heard and determined by the supreme court. The order last mentioned may be made before judgment has been pronounced by a district court of appeal, or within thirty days after such judgment shall have become final therein. The judgments of the district courts of appeal shall become final therein upon the expiration of thirty days after the same shall have been pronounced.

The supreme court shall have power to order causes pending before a district court of appeal for one district to be transferred to the district court of appeal of another district, or from one division thereof to another, for hearing and decision.

The justices of the district courts of appeal shall be elected by the qualified electors within their respective districts at the general state elections; and the term of office of said justices shall be twelve years from and after the first day of January next succeeding their election.

Upon the adoption by the people of this section by amendment at the general election of the year one thousand nine hundred eighteen, the governor shall appoint six persons to serve as justices of the district courts of appeal—three as justices of division two of the first appellate district, and three as justices of division two of the second appellate district—from and after their qualification and until the next general election and qualification of their successors. The justices of divisions two of the first and second appellate districts elected as above provided, shall so classify themselves by lot that one of them shall go out of office at the end of four years, one of them at the end of eight years, and one of them at the end of twelve years, and entry of such classification shall be made in the minutes of said division, signed by the three justices thereof, and a duplicate thereof filed in the office of the secretary of state.

If any vacancy occur in the office of a justice of the district courts of appeal, the governor shall appoint a person to hold office until the election and qualification of a justice to fill the vacancy. Such election shall take place at the next succeeding general state election, as aforesaid; the justice then elected shall hold office for the unexpired term; provided, that whenever the term of office of the justice whose place is filled by appointment is fixed by law to expire on the first Monday of January after the next succeeding general election, then the person so appointed to fill the vacancy shall hold office for the remainder of such unexpired term.

One of the justices of each of the district courts of appeal, and of each division of said courts, shall be the presiding justice thereof, and as such shall be appointed or elected, as the case may be.

The presence of two justices shall be necessary for the transaction of any business by such court except such as may be done at chambers, and the concurrence of two justices shall be necessary to pronounce a judgment.

Whenever any justice of the supreme court is for any reason disqualified or unable to act in a cause pending before it, the remaining justices may select one of the justices of a district court of appeal or a judge of the superior court to act pro tempore in the place of the justice so disqualified or unable to act.

Whenever any justice of a district court of appeal, or any division thereof, is for any reason disqualified or unable to act in any cause pending before it, the other justices of said court or division may appoint a justice of a district court of appeal of another district or division, or a judge of the superior court who has not acted in the cause in a court below, to act pro tempore in the place of the justice so disqualified or unable to act.

No appeal taken to the supreme court or to a district court of appeal shall be dismissed for the reason only that the same was not taken to the proper court, but the cause shall be transferred to the proper court upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as may be just, and shall be proceeded with therein as if regularly appealed thereto.

All statutes now in force allowing, providing for or regulating appeals to the supreme court shall apply to appeals to the district courts of appeal so far as such statutes are not inconsistent with this article and until the legislature shall otherwise provide.

The supreme court shall make and adopt rules not inconsistent with law for the government of the supreme court and of the district courts of appeal and of the officers thereof, and for regulating the practice in said courts, and for the distribution of causes between the divisions of said court.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

The following explanation of vote was received and ordered printed in the Journal:

Although we voted for Senate Bill No. 1200, we desire to make permanent record of our opinion that we are not entirely satisfied that this measure is necessary or wise. It may be, however, that the Governor is in possession of information which justifies him in asking provision for a State Defense Guard, and in view of possible contingencies we are willing to rely upon his discretion and judgment to safeguard the State from the unnecessary organization of the body provided for in this measure.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

The following explanation of vote was received and ordered printed in the Journal:

I voted no on Senate Bill No. 1126, because I think the State might buy its nursery stock from the nurserymen who help support the State. They are already equipped for growing stock for the planting of trees along the highways and in public places as well as elsewhere. Hundreds of small ranchers could devote small spaces to such a purpose which would help them out.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following communication was received and ordered printed in the Journal:

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26, 1917.

Hon. C. C. Young, Speaker of the Assembly, Sacramento, California:

DEAR SIR: The Board of Education respectfully requests that the following statement of its strong disapproval of Senate Bill No. 1138 may be read to the House whenever the said bill comes up for consideration and action.

The Board of Education of San Francisco unanimously protests against the passage of Senate Bill No. 1138. It would be a calamity to thousands of children who are unable to protect themselves against the diseases which compulsory attendance in our public schools would force upon them. The children of the well-to-do can afford both medical attendance and private instructors, but the children of a great majority of our people would risk losing both health and education. Without medical inspection the public schools will become certain centers for the exchange of contagious and infectious diseases, which pass readily from pupil to pupil. The authority which compels a child to go to school has the added duty of protecting that child while there. The exercise of the power to enforce school attendance would be dangerous in the extreme if not accompanied by proper precautions to insure that no harm results from the assembling of the pupils. The wonder is that anyone should be willing to take the responsibility of bringing disease and possible death to thousands of children.

Without medical school inspection, boards of health would frequently close schools because of fear of epidemics of scarlet fever, diphtheria, etc., thus robbing all the children of certain schools of education, when the absence of a few would be all that would be necessary. The present law has been a great success in San Francisco, both from a medical and educational point of view. Our average daily attendance has increased largely because of our present efficient system of medical inspection.

We hope Senate Bill No. 1138 will not pass.

ALFRED RONCOVIERI,
Superintendent of Schools, City and County of San Francisco.
